Purpose of the grants

The Tackle Cyberbullying Grants Program provides an opportunity for young people 10 to 17 years, with a sponsoring organisation, to develop and deliver local initiatives and projects to address cyberbullying in their community.

Young people must be at the centre of the design and implementation of all initiatives and can apply by completing the Young Person Application Form at www.qld.gov.au/tacklecyberbullying and obtaining the support of a sponsoring organisation as per guidelines.

To create momentum in shifting cultural and behavioural change to address cyberbullying in Queensland initiatives should empower young people to become positive social leaders/influencers by:

- developing respectful and positive relationships and interpersonal skills in their community and peer groups
- creating supportive and healthy environments for young people, focusing on empathy and early intervention
- building resilience and encouraging young people who observe cyberbullying to speak up and safely intervene to support others when required
- ensuring the participation of all young people 10 - 17 years, recognising the diversity and demographics of the local community.

Activities considered to be ‘out-of-scope’ include:

- Initiatives that can’t be delivered within the designated time period. If initiatives are proposed as a longer term project, grants can be provided for a first stage component with a strategy to deliver further components
- duplication of current resources and initiatives available including those provided by existing providers including eSafety Commissioner, Kids Helpline and Student Wellbeing Hub however can complement or demonstrate partnering with existing initiatives

The grant program aims to deliver activities that provide a supportive environment as well as building the capacity of young people to provide ongoing social leadership/influencing after the grant rounds are complete.

Target groups

To achieve the purpose of the Tackle Cyberbullying grants, funded activities, projects and initiatives must be developed with and/or open to all young people aged 10 - 17 years.

It is acknowledged that the interests of young people can change as they mature. We encourage activities that are targeted toward specific age cohorts within the 10 – 17 target age group.

Applications from groups of young people working together, including older age cohorts (e.g. high school students) working together with younger age cohorts (e.g. primary school students) are encouraged.
Funding available

In 2019 one-off grant funding is available to young people aged 10 to 17 years, with a sponsoring organisation, to support delivery of local initiatives and projects across Queensland between 15 September and 15 December 2019.

Grants of $500 to $1,500 are available (excluding GST).

Eligibility

Applicants:

Young people applying for a grant must:
- be aged 10 - 17 years at time of application
- a resident of Queensland and or attend a Queensland school
- have something that shows your sponsoring organisation what school you go to or that you live in Queensland
- have parental/guardian consent to undertake the activity and apply for the grant
- confirm the activity/resources to be delivered with the grant is original and not copied from existing initiatives
- complete the ‘Young Person Application Form’ at www.qld.gov.au/tacklecyberbullying and submit to an eligible sponsoring organisation (refer below) who will complete the online SmartyGrants application, receive and administer the funding on behalf of you, and complete the reporting and financial acquittal.

Sponsoring organisations must:

- be a not for profit, legal entity (e.g. a Parent and Citizens Association or youth and community group including a sporting, cultural, scout group); AND
- hold, or provide plans to obtain, insurance which includes cover for the period appropriate to the proposed activity, project or initiative to be delivered in Queensland; AND
- have no outstanding financial accountability, service delivery or performance issues for funding provided by the Department of Child Safety, Youth and Women.

Please note: State run entities such as schools and hospitals are not eligible to receive assistance. However, under the Education Act 2006 Parents and Citizens Associations or similar are able to apply for assistance.

Activity, projects and initiative must:

- be delivered between 15 September and 15 December 2019;
- be delivered in Queensland; and
- support the purpose of this grant program.
How eligibility will be assessed:

- The sponsoring organisation making the application on behalf of the young person will need to provide:
  - an Australian Business Number (ABN) on your application form; OR
  - your incorporation number and a copy of your certification of incorporation or other incorporation documentation, to demonstrate the status of your entity.

- Applications will be screened as not for profit by checking for evidence of one or more of the following:
  - Incorporation based on the model rules or governing documents that prohibit the entity from making any distribution (whether money, property or otherwise) to its members;
  - Registration as a charity with the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission (ACNC); or
  - Goods and Services Tax (GST) concession; Charity Tax Concession or Deductible Gift Recipient (DGR) status with the Australian Tax Office.

- Successful applicants will need to produce a certificate of currency for insurance prior to funds being released. At a minimum, applicants must hold public liability insurance to the value of at least $10 million.

- The Department of Child Safety, Youth and Women will assess any outstanding financial accountability, service delivery or performance issues relating to any previous funding.

Selection criteria

The application submitted by the sponsoring organisation via SmartyGrants Application Form https://csyw.smartygrants.com.au/youthcbgrants must reflect the idea outlined in the young person’s application form and address each of the following criteria, providing evidence to support the claims.

Priority will be given to applications that:

- support the development of positive and respectful relationships among young people, encourage empathy for others with young people ready to lead social and behavioural change
- demonstrate innovation in the design and delivery of the project e.g. in the use of technology
- consider how the project will encourage young people to change their behaviour. For example: a mural that is designed through a workshop discussing the impacts of cyberbullying and how to address it would be more impactful than the mural alone.
Selection criterion one: WHO WILL BE INVOLVED?

Weighting: 30%
Word limit: 150 words

It is acknowledged that young people’s interests change as they mature. In developing activities the needs of all young people, their diversity and local demographics must be considered.

Tell us:
- The target age group for your activity (must be between 10 - 17 years inclusive)
- How many young people you expect to reach over the life of this activity, project or initiative?
- Geographic location/reach e.g. town, electorate, suburb
- Is your activity intended for a specific group of young people (e.g. demographic/diversity group/network)?

Selection criterion two: WHAT WILL YOU DO AND HOW WILL YOU ACHIEVE IT?

Weighting: 35%
Word limit: 800 words

How will the target audience benefit from the activity, project or initiative?

Tell us:
- What will it look like and what sort of activities will be involved? (300 words)
- Outline involvement of young people in the design and delivery of the activity. (100 words)
- How does the activity align with the purpose of the grants and the government’s commitment to tackle cyberbullying? (150 words)
- Does it connect with or support the delivery of other initiatives underway across Government, and how? (100 words)
- What short or long term outcomes and benefits do you expect will result from the project or activity (150 words)

Selection criterion three: HOW WILL YOU SPEND THE MONEY?

Weighting: 15%
Word limit: 250 words

How does the activity, project or initiative represent value for money?

Tell us:
- The budget breakdown of your activity, project or initiative based on the amount requested under the 2019 Tackle Cyberbullying Grants Program.

Selection criterion four: WHAT DO YOU THINK THE IMPACT WILL BE IN YOUR COMMUNITY?

Weighting: 20%
Word limit: 250 words

Outline if and how the activity, project or initiative will promote awareness and challenge attitudes beyond those people who participate directly in the activity.

Tell us:
- If the activity will promote awareness and encourage a social and behavioural change beyond those people who participate directly in the activity, project or initiative, and how
- The strategies you will use to ensure the proposed activity, project or initiative reaches a wide audience and attracts community interest.
Assessment of applications

All applications will be assessed:
- in accordance with the Eligibility and Selection Criteria; and
- with consideration of geographical spread.

A panel comprising a representative of Office for Youth, the Anti-Cyberbullying Advisory Committee, the Queensland Youth Engagement Panel and Queensland Family and Child Commission will assess applications.

The Department of Child Safety, Youth and Women may contact the sponsoring organisation during the assessment process to request:
- a copy of your most recent Audited Financial Statement;
- further details be submitted; or
- clarification of the information provided.

Our requirements from successful applicants

Young people applying for a grant:
- Identify an appropriate sponsoring organisation as per Eligibility requirements and provide completed application form
